Proverbs 31:30

"Charm is deceptive, and beauty is fleeting;
but a woman who fears the LORD is to be praised."

Discussion for the Younger Kids:

Does it seem strange that this verse says to "Fear" God? It is not the same fear like when you watch a scary movie, it is the fear you get if you know you did something wrong at school and got sent to the principal. When someone truly respects God like they would their principal, that is something that is more beautiful than the prettiest person you know.

For Further Discussion:

This is my favorite passage because it relates to something I have struggled with and is also relatable to everyone. This passage is directed towards women, but men also deal with self image issues especially in our culture today. This passage says that beauty doesn't last; muscles, a great tan, and being skinny are not what is important. Anyone who fears or follows God is to be praised. Beauty like the inner love and joy that God brings into life lasts forever and will be remembered more than looks which fade away.
